1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by EP 879 853.

3. The EP reference discloses thermoplastic resin compositions, which substantially correspond to those of the present claims. The compositions of the reference include EP block copolymer wherein the higher limit of melt flow rate directly overlaps the lower limit of melt flow rate set forth by applicant. The same may be said for the ethylene octane random copolymer component of the EP reference. The styrene and talc components also directly correspond to those of applicant's claims. See pages 1-8 of the reference. No patentable difference may be ascertained between present and patented inventions.
